Polish companies, which produce clothing, accessories and leather goods, are becoming more and more effective in conquering foreign markets. The biggest purchasers of products of the Polish light industry are global corporations - commercial networks distributing domestic goods to markets in the whole world. However, the best Polish companies more and more often decide to produce and promote clothing, accessories and leather goods under their own brand. The consistently executed foreign policy of producers of high quality clothing, the most fashionable accessories and unusually elegant and exclusive leather goods, causes Polish export specialties to be accessible in boutiques on the streets around the world.

It should also be noted, that the Polish light industry is supported by exclusive designers. They present their creations and products at the most prestigious industry events around the world, such as the London and Berlin Fashion Week. Their unrestrained inventiveness, creative use of production materials and care for every single detail, delights connoisseurs around the globe. The quality and diligence of their workmanship, their professionalism and the modernity of their technical facilities, were recognized by international brands, like Hugo Boss, Escada and Valentino.
